Celebrates Her 102nd Annivers'y

MRS. INGERBORG MARTINSON PASSED HER 102nd MILESTONE.

Mrs. Ingeborg Martinson reached her 102nd birthday anniversary December 10th. She is making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Mike Gunderson. Mrs. Martinson has two daughters:—Mrs. Ella Borgerson, Detroit, and Mrs. Bertha Gunderson, East Jordan; also one son, Martin Martinson, of Suttons Bay. She also has 18 grand children and 1 great great grand child. Mrs. Martinson enjoyed very good health until in September when she received injuries from a fall in the home. Since then she has been confined to her bed.

Her daughter, Mrs. Ella Borgerson, and daughter, Evelyn, Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Martinson, Suttons Bay, were present for the occasion.

Family Night Supper at Legion Hall Held Last Thursday

The family night supper held at the Legion Hall, Thursday night was well attended. Dinner, called for 6:30, was bountiful and enjoyed by everyone.

Ed. Reuling was toastmaster for the evening, and called upon the children in the crowd for a question and answer game, and anyone missing it cost their father a quarter for the "kitty" that was later used for prize money for the winners. After this a community song ended up by a impromptu quartte, being chosen by the toastmaster consisting of War II, the ladise and than War I. Strange isn't it when you have the choice of any song you can never remember the words. The group was then taken on a tour and showed through the building and the plans for finishing the Home. They were led to the downstair stairway and had the opportunity to purchase an apple to later cash in at the club. Inspection of the New Club Bar followed.

The rest of the evening was spent in talking over "old times", and everyone expressed their thanks for the evening and that all had had a good time.

Pomona Grange at Deer Lake, Thursday, December 18

Charlevoix County Pomona Grange will meet with Deer Lake on Thursday, Dec. 18. A pot luck supper will be served at 7 p. m. The entertaining Grange will serve meat, potatoes and coffee, visiting Grangers are requested to bring sandwiches or dessert dishes. The business meeting will follow at 9 p. m.

During the program an attractive door prize will be given. South Arm and Deer Lake Granges will present short plays and Maple Grove will furnish special music. Barnard Grange will give a pantomine and Rock Elm Grange will participate in the program also. The Pomona Lecturer, Mrs. Anna Warner, will announce features of the County-wide contest for 1948. It will include such features as exchange programs, entertaining other Granges, planting memorial trees, new members, attendance at both subordinate and Pomona sessions, and a number of others. It is designed to sustain interest in Grange work.

Michigan State Grange meets in Traverse City in 1948. With the State Session so close, it will provide an opportunity for many Grangers in Charlevoix County to visit some of the meetings as well as to get the sixth degree in the order. Participation in subordinate and Pomona Grange activities will provide a better preparation for the State Grange work. The Grange is a friendly order and visitors are welcome.

Gifts For The Yanks Who Gave

"Cans" have been placed in some convenient place in most every business place in town. If you have not yet dropped in your contribution it is not yet too late, but you will have to hurry as only a few days yet remain that you will have this opportunity. And surely you do not want to be one of those who have forgotten this soon the sacrifices some of our boys were asked to give, that we might yet be enjoying a Merry Christmas. Let's let our "Yanks" have a "Very Merry Christmas from us all".

It may have come as a distinct shock to many citizens to have the chief executive of Michigan publicly condemn the office of Governor as "the crummiest job in the United States."

On the eve of entering a hospital for a serious operation, Kim Sigler said just that. His words were blunt and uncomplimentary. They covered many jobs and much territory. They were words of condemnation, frustration disappointment. Sigler voiced them before the Detroit Economic Club, a group consisting of "big shots" in industry and business.

Why would a governor, after serving 11 months at the state capital, openly denounce the office to which most observers believe he will be a candidate for re-election in 1948? And what happened to bring about this almost angry attitude of mind?

As we see it, words of protest are to be expected from a man who is the creation of protest. This colorful ex-grand jury prosecutor, unsuccessful once in a bid to be State Senator, rode to the office of Governor on a popular tidal wave.

It was the voters' protest against an assumed state of graft and corruption, wrong-doing and neglect of office, inefficiency and laxness -- well, stretch your own imagination at what SOME people may have thought after reading headlines about bribe-taking at Lansing -- that put Sigler in the governor's chair. A similar reform movement in Detroit put Homer Ferguson in the United States Senate.

Sigler was elected on an assumption he would clean-up Lansing. Hence he was committed in advance to reform of state government. Sigler likes action. He would rather fly his airplane, talk before luncheon and dinner groups of people, and espouse ideas for better government than stay at his office, saw wood, and follow through on countless details of administration. He is restless and impatient. He exhibits his displeasure by firing people. He removed Oscar Olander as commissioner of state police; he discharged William Burke as head of the state prison industries.

(For reasons of "gross neglect of duty" or "corrupt conduct in office", a governor has constitutional authority to remove "any public officer, elective or appointive." There is one if: "Except at such times as the legislature may be in session.")

Sigler urges a constitutional convention as the best way to reform state government. He puts much emphasis on our "antiquated tax structure", the results of a "horse-and-buggy"constitution. How this tax structure should be changed he has not indicated. There is certain to be organized resistence to any constitutional convention if for only one reason: The "uniform rule of taxation" of the 1908 constitution is a legal barrier to a graduated state income tax.

Sigler would centralize power in a governor's four-year term by giving him broad authority over state highways, public schools, law enforcement, motor vehicle licensing, conservation and agriculture -- to mention a few. What might happen if a "weak" governor were to be elected one who was subservient to a party boss, is open to interesting speculation.

Pledged to clean up state government, Sigler now implies that he needs new powers. Because he lacks authority over state offices and departments Michigan's governor is merely a "glorified clerk" and the job is the "crummiest in the United States," so goes the Sigler logic.

And there we are in mid-December 1947. The proposed changes merit careful appraisal and thorough debate. Only by getting both sides of a case can a jury weigh the evidence and come to a verdict.

"Wooden Shoe Christmas" Christmas Operetta By Grade School

On the afternoon of December 17 the grade school will present a Christmas Operetta "Wooden Shoe Christmas."

As you might suppose, the setting is in Holland and Christmas customs of various countries are mentioned.

The speaking parts are being played by children from the grade school at large and have been coached by Mrs. Alma Larson. The choruses have been assigned to particular grades and are being directed by Mrs. Drapeau.

Admission is free.

A Small, Worthwhile Way of Supporting School Activities

This week the P. T. A. dues are payable. Letters to the parents have been sent home, and a small envelope included with the report card to return the dues to the school. P. T. A. membership is not limited to parents and teachers alone--anyone interested in the welfare of the school may join. The dues are 25c per person per year.

Joining the P. T. A. is a small, though worthwhile, way of supporting the activities of the school. Coming to the meetings of the P.T. A., getting acquanted with the teachers, and knowing your school, are even more worthwhile.

The next regular meeting of your P. T. A. will be held January 19. At that time you will be shown several of the films used in the visual educational program.

Deer Are Still In Upland Country

The season's unusual early snow has nowhere been deep enough to drive deer into their yarding areas, according to I H. Bartlett, conservation department deer investigator.

Deer normally enter the yards early in January, when there may be about a foot of snow in northern lower Michigan and one and a half to two feet in the upper peninsula. The date deer enter the yards is significant because the winter food available in some swamps is limited, and too long a browsing season in the yeards means starvation for the younger and weaker animals.

Snow throughout the deer range for the full two weeks of deer season provided the best tracking in years, but did not hinder deer movement. It did force a change in deer feeding habits, so that deer appeared scarce near some established camps that had had good hunting in earlier seasons, and appeared more plentiful elsewhere.

Santa Claus Is Coming to Town

Good old Santa Clause is scheduled to be at the Sherman's Store this Saturday afternoon and evening. Bring the kiddies to meet this jolly old fellow. Also if they have any letters for Santa, have the kiddies bring them.

Yeggs Working In Northern Counties

Theft of upward of $1000 in cash from the safe at the Allen Schreur garage Gaylord by an intruder who broke a window in the west rear of the building, knocked the combination from the safe, and escaped the way he entered, taking nothing but currency, is being linked by state police with two similar jobs the night before in Grayling.

The entry apparently took place early December 1 as Mr. Schreur told police he had been in his building on November 30 about 11 p. m. to check up and found everything in order at the time.

Loss was not covered by insurance for theft, according to Sgt. Edgar A Welsch, officer-in-charge of the Gaylord state police post. The bills were mostly twenties, tens and fives, with two $100 bills in the lot.

Troopers from the Gaylord post conducted an exhaustive investigation this week and were following a number of leads here and in Grayling where the identity of footprints would seem to link the two jobs.

It is believed that one person did the job here and effected the two entries in Grayling, at Hansen's Chevrolet Sales and McEvers' Buick Sales and Service. It is reported that about $87 was missing from cash in the Hansen garage while a checkup failed to reveal loss at McEvers. Entry was thought effected by breaking rear windows in both cases.

In the robbery at the Schreur garage, the window glass was broken, catch released and the safe combination smashed and punched out, apparently by someone familiar with safe mechanism.

Footprints in the snow revealed that the robber went around the Schreur dwelling in the rear of the garage to get to the window and after leaving the garage, retraced his steps over the same route.

Nothing was reported missing or molested but the bills.

Assisting state police in the investigation are the sheriffs of the two counties in which the robberies took place, Sheriff Ralph Holewinski, of Otsego county, and Sheriff William Golnick, of Crawford county. Otsego County Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Wixom of Petoskey were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thompson.

GAY APRONS MAKE POPULAR CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Every woman likes to receive a gay new apron for Christmas that is just a little different in design or material because someone has made it for her.

You can have lots of fun making aprons for your friends by using simple patterns and choosing different materials and combinations of materials to make them "special". Margaret Hearn, texitles specialist at Michigan State college, suggests you look around the house for materials before you buy any.

How about flour sacks? They make good durable aprons when laundered, bleached and dyed. Discarded men's shirts may contain some very fine material in the backs that is not worn at all. Your "piece bag" will contain some remnants either large enough for a whole apron or at least for trimmings.

There are endless possibilities in washable cotton yard goods if you buy your material. Everything from the sheerest of organdies to heavy denim or sail cloth may be used for different types of aprons. Don't forget to look at curtain and drapery fabrics too. They're usually woven in wider pieces and will cut to better advantage. Glazed chintze with the permanent finish are attractive and do not soil or wrinkle as easily as some other fabrics.

Plastics are interesting to work and easy to handle if you use a long stitch on the sewing machine and eliminate pinning and basting. Edges may be left raw or bound with a contrasting color. It is possible to buy ready-made ruffling by the yard in matching or contrasting colors as a finish.

Coasting Hill Ready

An excellent coasting hill has been built up back of the school house, lighted, and good coasting.

Youngsters are warned there is no coasting allowed on the City streets. Parents are urged to cooperate.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. N. Approves Holy Land Partition; Congress Speeds Interim Aid Bill; Eniwetok Atoll Is Made Atomic Isle

Released by WNU Features.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

LEGAL SPLIT

Partition Brings Violence

Palestine was legally split and the world's homeless Jews finally had a native land.

The U. N. general assembly, after a touch-and-go battle, had approved the plan to partition Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish states. As voted by the general assembly, the Palestine resolution:

1. Calls on Britain to give up its mandate by August 1, 1948.
2. Provides for a U. N. commission to take over administrative powers from Great Britain.
3. Authorizes the creation of independent Arab and Jewish states not later than October 1, 1948.

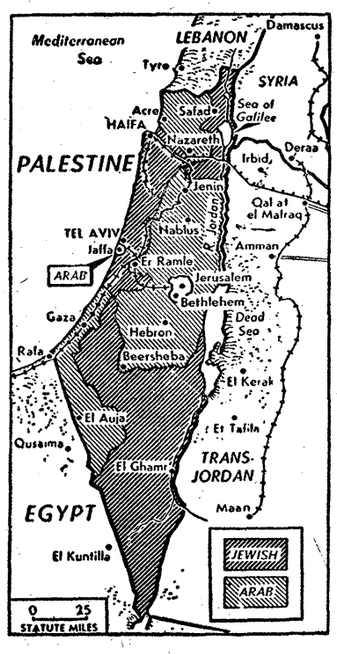

But although the U. N. could pride itself on having achieved a moral and legal settlement of the Palestine difficulties, it was immediately apparent that all was not going to be sweetness and light in the Holy Land.

The seven Arab league states of Iraq, Yemen, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Egypt, Pakistan and Syria figuratively waved their scimitars, issued savage objections to the U. N. decision and predicted a "holy war."

While some United Nations members pooh-poohed the idea of an actual war in Palestine, there were disquieting outbreaks of violence immediately following the partition plan approval. On the first day seven Arabs and seven Jews were killed in fighting in Jerusalem. Syrian demonstrators set fire to the U. S. legation in Damascus and tore down an American flag.

In Jerusalem, Haganah, the Jewish underground army, was reported to have sent out a call to mobilize all Jewish men and women of 17 to 35 for special "security" forces.

It might not come to war, but powerful forces were at work. The Jews would fight bitterly to hold on to their newly won homeland; the Arabs would fight as fiercely to recover what they considered the loss of their freedom and part of their country.

AID BILL:
Senate O. K.

As winter swept in over western Europe the U. S. congress moved to alleviate its bitter influence on the destitute peoples of France, Italy and Austria by speeding work on the administration's 597-million-dollar emergency aid bill.

Acting as with one accord, the senate passed the measure as it stood by a vote of 83 to 6, although some discontented rumblings were heard which presaged a less ready approval for the Marshall plan for long-range European relief, scheduled to come up for debate early next year.

Sen. C. Wayland Brooks (Rep., Ill.) castigated the administration for presenting foreign relief requests as "emergency" matters. His was the viewpoint of those legislators who believe that the administration has been overstating the case in picturing Europe's need for aid this winter as critical and urgent. Brooks voted for the bill, nevertheless.

In the house, meanwhile, a different version of the measure was set to come up before the group. The house foreign affairs committee had cut the original 597-million-dollar request down to 590 million and had included 60 million for China. No mention of aid to China was made in the senate bill.

As the emergency aid bill rode along toward passage, one point was being made clear by many members of both houses: Their votes for interim aid were not to be interpreted as endorsements for the 20-billion-dollar Marshall plan. That would be a major issue in itself.

HEADLINERS

IN WASHINGTON . . . Four-year-old Leola "Ginger" Leonard (above) of Alexandria, Va., called on President Truman to present him with the first forget-me-not of the Disabled American Veterans' fund.

IN INDIANAPOLIS . . . Sam Strange, 71, praised his luck when a tire exploded on his truck and the retaining rim cut off half his leg—his wooden one.

IN BOSTON . . . Candidates in the mayoral elections in Greater Boston communities spared no effort in getting out the mothers' vote, furnished baby-sitters for busy moms.

IN PHILADELPHIA . . . A suburban weekly newspaper carried an advertisement designed to appeal to musicians of diverse talents: "Wanted — Piano player who can open oysters and clams."

ATOMIC ISLAND:
Eniwetok

Construction of elaborate atomic "testing grounds" was under way on the far-away, isolated Pacific atoll of Eniwetok, the atomic energy commission had announced.

It was a definite assurance that the U. S. was not lagging in rounding out its atomic energy program for peace and war.

Eniwetok was chosen for the experimental area because "it is isolated and there are hundreds of miles of open seas in the direction in which winds might carry radioactive particles." Also, it is the least populous of all the Pacific atolls of comparable size, having only 145 native inhabitants.

There were going to be big doings on that coral island, the commission's announcement hinted. Lt. Gen. John E. Hull, Pacific commander of army forces, will co-ordinate the work of all three branches of the armed forces in the program. Installations for scientific equipment will be constructed, as well as protective structures for personnel when tests are in progress, control and observation posts and housing for the scientists and others who will work there.

The circle of tiny islands near Bikini atoll where the atomic bomb tests were held in July, 1946, will be closed to all unauthorized sea or air traffic as a security measure.

That there would be particular need for security was hinted by the atomic energy commission when, in its announcement, it spoke of atomic weapons in the plural. The inference, perhaps unfounded, was that the U. S. had another new nuclear weapon besides the atomic bomb.

Said one spokesman: "You can draw your own conclusions."

HOOF AND MOUTH:
Back Door Peril

Mexico's abandonment of the slaughter - and - burial method of eradicating hoof and mouth disease among cattle has been denounced by a joint livestock committee of 134 cattle-raisers' associations meeting in Chicago.

Cattlemen and the U. S. government alike are fearful that the scourge will spread northward from Mexico and jeopardize the nation's supply of meat and dairy products at a time when the demand is so overwhelming.

H. H. Mundy of Paukuska, Okla., president of the joint committee, said the recent substitution by the Mexican government of the vaccine and quarantine plan was doomed to failure at the start because vaccines have proved ineffective in dealing with the disease.

"We cannot feel safe about our national economy as long as the (hoof and mouth disease) threat exists at our back door, in Mexico," Mundy said.

Genuinely alarmed, the joint livestock committee was planning to ask congress to force Mexico to return to the slaughter-and-burial method formerly used by enforcing provisions of a treaty which prohibits importation of cattle from any country where the disease exists.

NEW SHORTAGE:
Penicillin

Latest nationwide shortage to rear its ugly head is that of penicillin, the "wonder drug," and officials were predicting that the situation would become worse with the expected increase in colds and winter infections.

Dr. Henry Welch of the Food and Drug administration says the shortage is caused by the fact that more physicians are prescribing penicillin in larger doses.

PRODUCTION:
Up in '47

Economists estimating the 1947 U. S. production rate were all snarled up between trying to figure it out in terms of dollar value and also in terms of physical volume, but they were agreed on one point—the year's production had been enormous.

By January 1, the rate was expected to be about 325 billion dollars annually in terms of dollar totals—a record never closely approached before and a 15 per cent increase over last year.

But that, said the economists, was the inflationary way of looking at it. Actually, production is expected to fall slightly short of achieving President Truman's goal of boosting physical output — volume of goods rather than dollar value—by 5 per cent over the 1945 rate.

The cold truth was this: Ballooning price inflation accounts for most of the indicated rise in dollar value of the national output.

Economists were trying to erase the inflationary element from their calculations so as to arrive at a fair estimate of the real gain in goods physically produced, crops raised and services rendered.

Although they are not jumping to any conclusion, they indicate tentatively that the final figures will show a 1947 production rise slightly less than the 5 per cent increase which Mr. Truman declared to be a desirable objective in his economic message to congress last January.

POLITICS:
Opening Gun

Sen. Robert Taft (Rep., Ohio), his political nose sharpened on the grindstone of the pre-1948 election campaign, thought he smelled a rat in President Truman's 10-point anti-inflation program.

He said that he doubted the "good faith" of Mr. Truman's proposed campaign, and he posed a question in which was implicit an exceedingly grave charge:

Was the administration secretly trying to maintain the high cost of living until after the 1948 presidential election?

No one knew, of course, probably including Senator Taft. On the surface Taft's "question" was an obvious political maneuver. The GOP contender for the Republican nomination next year thus had given a strong indication that he was going to waste no time in carrying the fight into the enemy's camp

Moreover, the senator had his own plan for dealing with high prices It was an eight-point anti-inflation modus operandi, he told anniversary dinner guests of the Philadelphia St. Andrew's society, which included these measures: A nation-wide campaign to step up production per man per day; reduction of government expenses, with corresponding cuts in personal income taxes; limitation of exports, and the reimposition of some limit on consumer credit.

Killed in Crash

Gen. Jacques Leclerc, France's famous armored warfare leader and commander of the French Forces of the Interior during the Nazi occupation, was killed in an airplane crash in the Sahara desert 200 miles south of Oran and near the Algeria-Morocco border.

DANGER:
Farm Deaths

That safety first constantly should remain a prime consideration among U. S. farm families was emphasized in a report by National Safety council on accidental farm deaths.

The accidental death rate among farm people has increased during the last three years, despite a drop in the number of deaths from farm accidents, the council disclosed.

The seeming paradox was explained by the fact that an "alarming" increase in the automobile death rate among farm families had more than offset the decrease in actual farm accidents.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, revealed that the all-accident death rate among farm residents "in 1944 was 62 per 100,000. Last year it almost reached the 1941 high of 72. The total number of deaths in 1944 was 15,800. In 1945 it was 17,000; last year, 18,500."

Deflation Overdue

From the standpoint of the World War I price pattern, deflation is now considerably overdue, according to a report by Alexander Hamilton institute.

Not only have prices risen to a higher peak than during the World War I period, but the increase over the prewar level has been greater, and the duration of the advance since the end of the war has been longer.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Revelation 1-7; Acts 16:16-40; I Peter 4:12-19; 5:6, 7.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Revelation 3:7-13.

Courageous Loyalty

Lesson for December 14, 1947

OPEN your Bible to Revelation, and read the first seven chapters. Then you will be ready for Acts 16:16-40, and I Peter 4:12-19, and 5:6, 7. These Scriptures form the basis of a study for Sunday on Loyalty Under Persecution.

Dr. Newton

Christians are not promised an easy time, but they are assured sufficient grace for every time of need. This lesson, if carefully pondered, will fortify one's faith and send us forth renewed in courage and Christian poise for these days of discipleship.

* * *

How a Song Helped

"HUMBLE yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time; casting all your care upon him, for he careth for you," I Peter 5:6, 7. That is a splendid watchword for every boy and girl.

Now, turn to Acts 16:16-30, and see how Paul and Silas, locked in the inner dungeon at midnight, could pray and sing. That is what happens to the Christian who sincerely trusts in God—who acts on the promise that God really cares for his trusting children.

A memory verse suggested for Sunday is found in Proverbs 17:22, and it goes like this: "A cheerful heart is a good medicine."

Have you watched some Christian in affliction—how he or she could bless every passerby? It was because that person possessed the "cheerful heart." And each of us may have that precious possession, if we remember Mark 11:22, "Have faith in God."

* * *

Happy Behind Prison Bars

PAUL and Silas are pictured as happy in that dark dungeon. There is a statement to challenge every cynic, every doubting Thomas. Only the grace of God can make men happy under persecution. Paul declares in Romans 1:16, "I am not ashamed of the Gospel." Aye, he was not ashamed to preach the Gospel to the little damsel on the streets of Jerusalem, nor was he ashamed to go to the prison for the sake of the Gospel.

Best of all, Paul and Silas were sustained in their sorrowful plight by the consciousness that God was with them—that he always keeps his word.

I venture the prediction that the fortitude of Paul and Silas in that night of persecution did more to impress the Christian religion upon Jerusalem than any sermon even the eloquent Paul ever uttered. We, too, can witness for Christ as we face difficult situations.

* * *

Courageous Loyalty

LOOK now at Revelation 2:8-11, and 3:14-22, for the example of the church at Smyrna, burdened by tribulation and poverty, but "rich" in the promise that a crown of life awaited them.

It was far more difficult to be a Christian in the first century than it is in the twentieth century. By which I mean that the early Christians were few in number and without any backing of public opinion. They were despised as the lowly followers of the crucified carpenter of Nazareth. Today, Christians are acknowledged as the best citizens in every community.

Even so, there are tests for us—tests that will be too much for human courage and loyalty. If we are true to the teachings of Jesus as they relate to everyday life, we shall need that same enduement which the Christians at Smyrna possessed, else our discipleship will shame the name of our Lord.

* * *

The Blood of the Lamb

THE lesson concludes with that dramatic passage in Revelation 7:9-17, in which we behold the great white-robed throng about the throne of God, singing, "Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honor and power and might be unto our God forever and ever. Amen."

Who were they? "These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb."

Loyalty under persecution is dependent absolutely upon the life-giving power of the blood of the Lamb.

"Fear not, I am with thee, O be not dismayed
For I am thy God, and will still give thee aid."

PENINSULA...

(Edited by Mrs. E. Hayden)

No news this week as every one made all their news last week.

The 240 telephone line seems to be completely out of commission.

This section entirely missed the blizzard that struck farther south in the State Thursday evening.

A nice warm rain Sunday evening may take the snow all off or turn to snow.

The roads are very slippery and every one is keeping off them that can.

F. K. Hayden was absent from his job at the Tannery in Boyne City the last of last week because of illness.

Mr. Francis Boyington of Boyne City, was Sunday dinner guest of his aunt, Mrs. A. B. Nicloy and family at Sunny Slopes farm.

A. B. Nicloy and sons got out some electric light poles last week for Lance Russ who is preparing to light his fish shanties when the ice comes. Wheather he will start a village of his own or merge with Smeltania, is not decided, but is sure to have a very nice fishing ground at Advance.

The Star Sunday School had their service Sunday at Pleasant View farm with 12 in attendence. The services will be held at Pleasant View farm until warm weather. When it became a task to heat the community building just for the few who go to Sunday School, Mrs F. K. Hayden very generously opened her house to the Sunday School.

What is IT?

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this vital artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Turrible, Turrible, Turrible!"

Ben Ryder is back! After twenty years in Capital City, Ben has retired and come to enjoy life in the family house on Maple Street.

First thing Ben does is write us complaining how Our Town has changed. "Why, there's no mud in the streets to sink up to your ankles in!" he says. "No pistol feuding in the town square! No moonshine liquor or Saturday night brawls! Nothing to do but settle for a temperate glass of beer in a law-abiding tavern!"

"Turrible, turrible, turrible," Ben says, "how a town can get run down in twenty years!" And then Ben takes his tongue out of his cheek and tells us how proud he is of the orderly, law-abiding atmosphere he finds here.

And from where I sit, you can point to that growing preference for a moderate, wholesome glass of beer as one reason folks in Our Town are so temperate, and neighborly and well-behaved.

Schedule subject to change - By Mommy!

Bed at 9:30? Only ten minutes for breakfast? Mommy may change this time-table. But the clock won't.

It's electric—the most dependable time an 8-year-old can live by. Or anybody else. Radio stations, railroads, airlines, millions of homes and businesses are run on electric time.

You've learned to take electric time for granted—like electric light—or air or water. That's one more proof of the dependability of electric service . . . service so reliable that you confidently trust it for countless jobs around your home, farm, store or factory.

America enjoys the most and the best electric service in the world. Partly because people like you have taken advantage of so many electrical opportunities. Partly because the business-managed electric companies have worked constantly to keep the quality of service up so everybody can enjoy it—and to keep the price down so everybody can afford it.
